ROTC AWARD SEMINAR

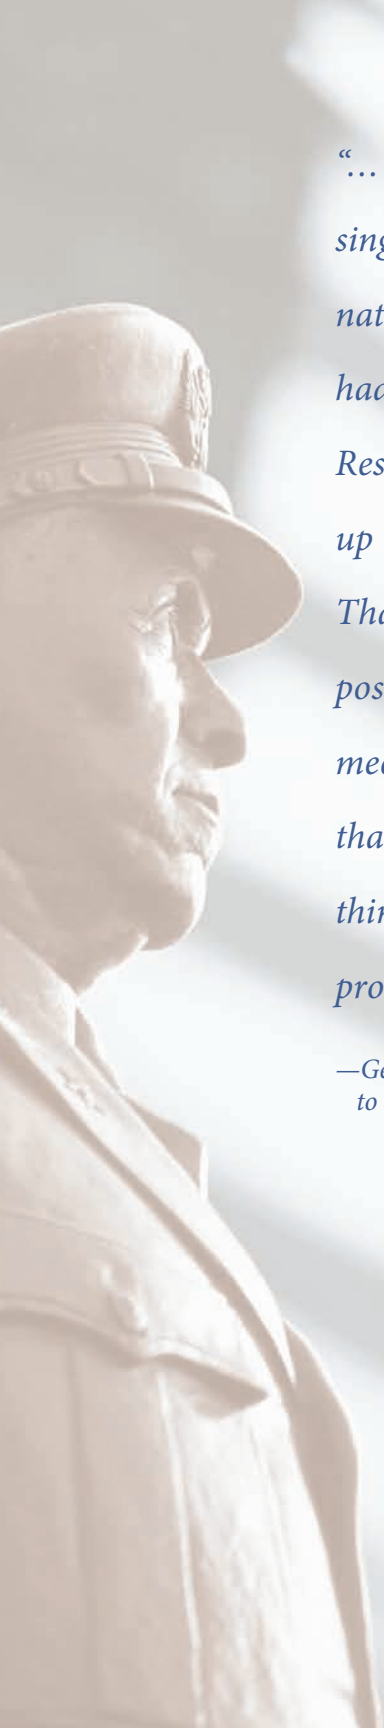

General of the Army George C. Marshall, 1880–1959

April 14–17, 2009

Celebrating his legacy ★ Inspiring new leaders

*“... the most valuable single measure of national defense we had available was the Reserve Corps built
up by the R.O.T.C.
That has been of more positive assistance in meeting this emergency
than any other single thing that has been provided by Congress.”*

—General George C. Marshall to a Senate panel, April 22, 1941

PROGRAM SUPPORT

In addition to the major financial support and crucial logistical assistance provided by the United States Army, the Marshall ROTC Award Seminar is greatly indebted for the generous support of a number of persons and institutions, including the Association of the United States Army, the USAA Foundation, the George C. Marshall Chapter of MOAA, Peter Murphy of AUSA and Robert Hopkins of MOAA.

Located on the parade ground of the Virginia Military Institute—Marshall’s alma mater—the independent Marshall Foundation is a living memorial to the man Winston Churchill called “the organizer of victory.” The Foundation, with its museum, library, and archives, is the place where the ideals and values that shaped and motivated Marshall are kept alive.

The Foundation exists to perpetuate Marshall’s leadership qualities and exemplary character through its educational and international programs, Web site, and facilities that offer a wide range of resources and materials for use by the general public, amateur historians, scholars and students of all ages.
